You’re invited to help Columbia Pacific Food Bank feed Columbia County
The Columbia Pacific Food Bank is the regional food bank for Columbia County. We distribute food to various organizations throughout the county and underwrite a significant portion of the cost of distribution. We also operate the food pantry and brown bag program in St. Helens and the Mobile Food Pantry at the Natal Grange. We currently are distributing 12 tons of food a week throughout the county.

With our current location we are limited in the amount of food we can accept and distribute. The new location will allow us to increase the amount of support and education we provide to those in need in the county. It will also allow the community to be more actively engaged with us through volunteer service that we cannot currently offer due to the size of our current location (bulk repack is an example).

I want to thank you for your interest in our project and your support in helping those less fortunate. Together we can do great things!

“Together we can do great things!”
